

Geo. Haggerty was in from Cave Valley yesterday after supplies.

The election excitement now being over, business inactivity will be generally resumed hereabouts.

Utah having gone heavily Republican indicates that the political complexion of the new state will be.

"Blood to the Briddles" Waite of Colorado was turned down at the recent election. Too much politics.

The weather for the past week is admitted to have been most glorious, not to be beaten in any quarter of the world.

By mistake, the Returns of last week intended for Pioche, were mislaid, going to Helena, and not returning until Tuesday night.

Eugene Goodrich went to DeLamar with his photograph outfit last Friday, to treat the residents with selections from the latest operas, etc.

This will end for a year at least, any decent effort to build either north from Key-stone, or south from Milford, as we have been expecting.

The photograph stand is now removed from the Bank Exchange building on Main St., to the east side of the street, third door above Meadow Valley St.

District Attorney Culverwell has been confined to the house for ten days past with a severe attack of nervous prostration. He is now mending and will be about again shortly.

A dance is to be given at Spring Valley tomorrow night by some of the successful candidates. Several team loads will be going out from town to assist in making the affair one to be pleasantly remembered.

Newspapers, like other banking institutions and poor houses, need a little cash occasionally in their business. We give this as a reminder to our delinquent subscribers that they may treat us kindly when we call on a collecting tour.

State and County taxes for the current year are now payable. More difficulty is expected this year in meeting this requirement of civilization than for some past, but ten per cent. additional is serious, and is to be avoided if possible. Keep your name off the delinquent list.

The returns from all Lincoln County precincts were known here on County candidates by Sunday afternoon and the Returns run off a slip which was mailed generally to the anxious voter on the outside, as the official copy by the Board of Commissioners would not occur for several days at least.

Joe Comerlith is again on the rounds buying cattle, and has a shipment of about 800 ready for delivery. This vicinity will deliver at Desert Springs, while north of here the delivery will be made at Lake Valley. The stock are said to be in good condition. The prices paid we did not learn.

A rumor was current on the street two days ago that an attempt would be made to throw out the DeLamar precinct on the grounds that one of the Inspectors was a candidate for office at the time, and that transfers were entered on the registry list, of voters from other precincts, both in this and other counties, who, under the requirements of the law, had not become residents of the DeLamar precinct, not being in it long enough.

Financial difficulties involving Mr. Blake, have brought an end to the railroad and consolidation scheme between the Pioche Con. Co., and the Nevada Southern Railroad. The railroad and other property owned by Mr. Blake are heavily in debt. Legal proceedings have been instituted and the properties are under attachment as shown by the following:

SAN BERNARDINO, November 2.—Two attachments were received here to day from Los Angeles county to be served upon the Nevada Southern Railroad. One is in favor of E. R. Woodbury for $35,700, and the other in favor of Henry W. Dillon for $5,000. Attachments were also issued in favor of E. R. Woodbury against the Glad-lator Mining Company for $30,000 and against the Needles Reduction Company for $33,000.

District Court.

The District Court will be open here for business on the 27th inst. Any jury trials which may come up will take place on the 3rd of December. The main cases for trial at the approaching sitting are Vietti vs. Nesbitt Bros., relating to a settlement on ores worked from the Jim Crow mine last spring. Sawyer vs. Mrs. J. McFadden and Nesbitt Bros., to recover for alleged legal services connected with the Jim Crow mine. Livingston & Co. vs. Jerry Manning, to recover on a draft accepted and unpaid. C. Lytle and others vs. Jos. Comerlith to determine title to water running from Spring into Eagle Valley. Other business is expected to come up in the mean time, which with estate matters on hand will extend the sitting to about ten days.

Vote Canvassed.

The returns from Keystone precinct, the last to arrive, came in by last night's mail. The Board of Commissioners were ready and lost no time in getting to work to canvass the vote of the county. The work was completed by eleven o'clock and the result is given in another column.

During the canvass it was noticed that about sixty ballots had been illegally counted. They had been written on by voters in an effort to vote for township officers, Justice of the Peace and Constable. Under the new system of voting the ballot must contain no mark but an X, made with a black lead pencil. Though this instruction was given a number of times it was disregarded in many instances, and in all such, the ballot, if objected to, could be thrown out. The marked ballots came from several quarters, Lake Valley furnishing 3, Eagle Valley, 6; Bunkerville, 18; Keystone, 26, and Bullionville, 4. The winning candidates, on the county ticket, however, with the possible exception of Treasurer, are all in by such large majorities that the result would not be changed if all the objectionable ballots were cast aside; so there will very likely be nothing done with regard to them, but voters should remember this and guard against similar mistakes two years hence.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. William Perry met with an accident a few days ago which might have resulted seriously. Whilst standing on the porch in the rear of their dwelling, it fell accidentally down the steps a distance of about 20 feet. Besides a few scratches and bruises it escaped further injury.

In the great contest in Montana for the removal of the state capital, Helena was successful over Anaconda by several thousand votes. This was one of the controlling issues in Montana politics this fall and a vast amount of money was spent in the effort to remove the capital to Anaconda.

The various county funds will be greatly taxed to meet the expenses of the late election. Though outside precincts send returns by mail and thus save much in mileage, the new system calls for expenditures in other channels which about make a stand-off with the old method in general expenses.

The votes are all in and counted, but election will not be entirely over until everybody has explained to their entire satisfaction "just how it happened," when that is done we will be able to resume our ordinary business.

The Indians who have been holding a fandango last week at Panaca have dispersed and returned to their different localities. The town is pretty well flooded with the dusky denizens who are besieging our citizens for muck a muck.

The mill at Conder Canyon has closed down and as soon as water can be obtained sufficient for mill purposes, it will be moved to DeLamar and erected on the Nesbitt Company's property.

Five men are working at Bullionville putting up iron tanks to replace the old wooden ones. The company expects to resume operations shortly.

Commissioner Conaway was in town from Tuesday, waiting for the returns to come in from the outside precincts in order to make the official count.

The next Congress will be largely Republican. The election returns, not all in yet, show about 275 Republican members elected.

Manager H. A. Cohen, of the DeLamar mines, goes to Salt Lake in the morning.

Planting the Standard

All hail Columbus! Behold the great navigator as he lands. The perils of the deep are past. The clouds of fear have vanished. The night of gloom has ended. In the heavens the sun of success shines resplendent. Morning has dawned.

Imperiously the banner of haughty Spain greets the daylight. Upon its fluttering folds are inscribed the destinies of a new world. Its gleaming surface marks a long advance in the evolution of the human race. It tells a story of prophecy unparalleled, of development unapproached in the fullness of recorded time. It crowns with triumph the efforts of genius.

The World's Fair contained no finer statue of the great discoverer than this colossal figure. It commanded from its pedestal the eastern entrance to the Administration building. The majesty of its dimensions, the vigor and aggressiveness of its expression and the artistic finish of its composition made it admired as a genuine sculptural triumph.

Another Standard Proudly Displayed

at the Fair was that of

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

A Standard of Excellence for Forty Years.

It was the standard of unequalled strength, perfect purity and wholesome results. The award to Dr. Price's of highest honors at the Fair furnishes conclusive evidence of its superiority over all other baking powders.

DE LAMAR DOTS.

Building still goes on.

We have enjoyed the phonograph this week.

The sporting which flourished at pay day, is waning.

John Vietti is said to be taking out some good ore from the April Pool claim under his lease.

S. E. Wertheimer will remain here and assist in conducting the business of Wertheimer & Co.

J. Nesbitt & Bro., are said to be contemplating the erection of a store building here and to open business, with Mike Cohen in charge.

County Recorder elect John Shier will dispose of his business here before leaving for the county seat to take charge of his office.

Wertheimer & Co's new store is rapidly nearing completion. The iron and wooden doors from the old Quillen building on Meadow Valley St., Pioche, are being put in.

The mill will not be ready for operation by the first of January as expected. Some of the machinery has just been shipped from the east, and at best the plant will not be ready for work before the last of January.

The lease on the Flagstaff has been extended to the first of July. Antone Depauli will continue the work, the first of which will be to tap the Apex vein, from which they switched three months ago to follow the large manganese vein cut at that time.

As the business of the place increases, a graded road down the first canyon at the foot of Main St., appears more a necessity. It is estimated one could be built for $300. It would save twice that in wear and tear on wagons in the first six months, besides shortening the distance considerably.

Protection against fire continues to interest us. It is not probable at all, that the pipe water supply will be sufficient to afford relief. It is suggested that the remnants of the Hook and Ladder Company at Pioche be fixed up, and a company organized here. The implements are rather heavy but there are plenty of strong and willing hands here to operate them should occasion require.

HE.

You n'er can object to my arm around your waist.

And the reason you'll readily guess.

I'm an Editor, dear, and I always insist,

On the liberty of the press.

SHE.

I'm a Minister's daughter, believing in texts,

And I think all the newspapers bad.

And I'd make you remove your arm were it not,

You are making the waist places glad.

The breaking of a lamp bracket in the Record office last night nearly resulted in a fire. The lamp was thrown down and broken and burning oil scattered about, but the flames were extinguished before any particular damage resulted.

W. D. PREWITT,
Principal Pioche Public School.

Elko Free Press: From Dr. C. F. Moore, who returned from White Pine, we get the following particulars of the killing in Cherry Creek of Green. Green was on the sidewalk talking with a number of men, when Dolan rushed up and raised his gun to fire at Green. Several men made a rush for Dolan and knocked the muzzle of the gun up, and the charge of the shot went over Green's head. Dolan fought the men off, one man having a finger broken in the scuffle. Getting clear, he backed off a few steps and quickly raising his gun fired a second time, the charge taking the top of Green's head right off, laying the skull open and killing him instantly. Then reloading his gun he walked down the street and gave himself up. Lynching was freely talked of, but Dolan was quickly rushed out of Cherry Creek and taken to Ely, where he now lies in the county jail.
